The purpose of the unit is to provide an understanding towards both healthy and safe relationships. The unit will develop knowledge and understanding on how to form relationships in a responsible and healthy manner.

Content includes:

- the value of stable family life, including the responsibilities of parenthood and marriage
- the concept of consent in a healthy relationship
- the benefit of a healthy relationship for mental wellbeing and safety

If you have any questions in relation to the unit of study, please contact Mr Marriott or Mr Underwood.

Yours sincerely
